

HP print cartridges – The science of precision and control

An HP print cartridge is like a high performance engine. Consider the fact that each ink nozzle fires up to 36,000 ink droplets per second. Or the level of precision required to accurately place each ink droplet – travelling at 50 km/h – onto a microscopic area.

And the ink? Well, for every successful formulation that finds its way into your print cartridge, our scientists reject a hundred more. At HP, the science of printing has been honed into a work of art.

Each ink droplet is precisely controlled for that perfectly printed page.

HP 56 and HP 57 inkjet print cartridges
Print crisp black text, brilliant colours and true-to-life images. Now your business truly has the power to shine!

Science. It's what makes HP supplies and printers work better together.

Use original HP inks for:

- Perfect printouts
- Trouble-free printing
- Peace-of-mind
